Business security made simple

Whether it's customer data or trade secrets you need to protect, prevent fraud or simply need to ensure business continuity, trusted and reliable network security for your business is a must.

Talk Straight provides affordable security to over 1500 customers and has been officially recognised by the Internet Service Providers' Association as providing the UK's best internet security for two years running.

We take advanced, complex security and turn it into easy to implement and manage solutions. If you don't have the time to understand the intricacies of Unified Threat Management systems, Next Generation Firewalls, Application Control, Intrusion Prevention or Anti-Malware, don't worry, we do and will do this for you.

Our specialist engineers will manage your Fortinet secured network from our headquarters, and our advanced technologies will detect and respond to new global threats every hour, keeping your business protected against the world's most unsuspecting threats.

It means you can get on with running your business.

Multiple Office Locations

If you have multiple offices, you'll love the fact our hosted solution means you don't have to buy or manage separate firewalls for each site. Because we create virtual networks, our centralised Unified Threat Management system means all your locations are protected with the same award-winning security, meaning you only pay once for multiple sites. Imagine the cost-savings there.
